AN ACT DECLARING APRIL 27 OF EVERY YEAR AS A SPECIAL WORKING PUBLIC HOLIDAY THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY TO COMMEMORATE THE VICTORY OF LAPU-LAPU AND HIS MEN OVER THE SPANIARDS LED BY FERDINAND MAGELLAN IN THE HISTORIC BATTLE OF MACTAN ON APRIL 27, 1521, TO BE KNOWN AS LAPU-LAPU DAY OR ADLAW NI LAPU- LAPU

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Ne'er shall invaders trample thy sacred shores!

Embodying the line in the Philippine National Anthem, "sa manlulupig, 'di ka pasisil," Lapu-Lapu was the first successful defender of the Philippine shores. He was a native Muslim of Mactan and the earliest known indigenous Visayan Muslim chieftain and datu in the island of Mactan.

When the Spaniards first set foot on the Philippines, they had a goal to convert the local people to Spanish traditions and customs, primary of which was conversion to Christianity. Unlike Rajah Humabon of Cebu and other chiefs of the neighboring islands, Lapu-Lapu refused to acknowledge the Spanish sovereignty over the islands and convert to Christianity.

Thus, on April 27, 1521, Lapu-Lapu together with the men of Mactan, fought Ferdinand Magellan and successfully defeated him, rejecting the change he wanted to bring with the Spanish flag. Today, Lapu-Lapu is regarded as the first national hero of the Philippines who resisted and repulsed the Spanish invaders and pushed them back to the seas, defending the land he calls home, now part of the Philippine territory.

Lapu-Lapu had strong principles and was a peaceful leader until invaded, possessing the qualities of courage, bravery, strength, honor, and integrity, which should be emulated by every Filipino.

In keeping with the Filipino tradition of commemorating momentous events in national history, this bill proposes the declaration of April 27 as a special working public holiday to be known as Lapu-Lapu Day or Adlaw ni Lapu-Lapu, as a fitting tribute to the courage displayed by Lapu-Lapu and his men in the Battle of Mactan.
